ETHICAL ISSUES IN TELEPSYCHOLOGY

As clinicians incorporate telehealth services into their daily work, questions arise regarding best practices and how to deliver practical, ethical, and successful telepsychology. This workshop will address informed consent for telehealth, HIPAA, privacy and confidentiality, assessment issues, office and technology information, providing virtual supervision, reimbursement for telepsychology and working over state borders through PSYPACT. Participants are encouraged to share their dilemmas and questions.

Linda K. Knauss, Ph.D., ABPP is a Professor at Widener University's Institute for Graduate Clinical Psychology. Dr. Knauss is the Past-chair of the American Psychological Association's Ethics Committee, the American Board of Professional Psychology's Ethics Committee, the Pennsylvania Psychological Association's Ethics Committee, and has served as Co-chair of the Philadelphia Society of Clinical Psychologists' Ethics Committee. Dr. Knauss taught courses in ethics at Widener University, Immaculata University, and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. She has authored several book chapters and journal articles on ethics, and has taught many continuing education workshops on a variety of ethical issues.
